ing a total number of guns captured, twenty-five.

The supports and artillery reserve advanced to Kuchlatzu and vicinity, driving the Russians from Hunchiatien.

Losses Very Great.

This extended report from the headquarters of the Manchurian armies indicates that the Japanese were generally successful in the fighting of yesterday and that all three of the Japanese armies gained decided advantages.

The operations designed to isolate and surround the Russians at Beshu are progressing favorably. The numbers engaged in the struggle exceed the forces which fought at Liao Yang. In some places the fighting surpassed in desperation anything shown since the war began. The losses are not indicated, but they unquestionably are heavy.

Fled in Confusion.

A telegram covering yesterday's operations, which arrived here to-day, says: "The direction of Beshu the enemy's attacks have been repulsed at all points. Communications with Chiaochoo have been firmly established. The pursuit of the enemy undertaken by the main force of the right and center armies has progressed remarkably."

A line from Maerhsan to Manchouan has been reached. There a body of the enemy, possessing guns, was enveloped by us and thrown into great confusion, while another portion of the enemy's forces appears to have fled northward, also in great confusion.

"The right army has sent a detachment toward Shihchiatzu for the purpose of cutting off the retreat of the enemy posted at Beshu, and this detachment will reach its destination about 3 o'clock this afternoon."

Pursuit by Russians.

"According to statement made by prisoners, General Kuropatkin, with three divisions was in the rear of the force confronting our right army. The center and left columns of this army, after driving a strong force of the enemy before them, took the Russian positions at Langtoughieh and its vicinity at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and captured eight guns. The enemy fled in a disorderly manner to the north and our forces pursuing him immediately advanced toward Linhan-chiatzu."

The right column, after encountering fierce resistance, successfully dislodged the enemy, who was holding positions north of Yendonuili. The enemy retired in confusion.

"Our force was engaged in pursuing the enemy toward Lungwangmie, south of Wulchiah at 1:30 this afternoon."

BATTLE RAGES; LOSSES HEAVY

St. Petersburg Says Result Thus Far Is Varying Success for Russian Arms.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, October 11—1:50 A. M.—Desperate fighting and heavy losses on both sides, with varying success for the Russians, such as the summing up of the situation by General Kuropatkin in a telegram filed October 11th.

There is no sign of a slackening of the battle. On the contrary, General Kuropatkin telegraphs that he ordered the army to resume the fight with unabated vigor to-day. General Kuropatkin himself is in the thickest of the fighting, and General Sakharoff, his chief of staff, is personally directing reconnoissances.

The conflict has been most desperate at the center and on the west flank. The advance guard at those points had to be repeatedly reinforced, owing to the great pressure of the Japanese attacks. At nightfall on October 12th the Russian right was withdrawn from its main position, but one of the abandoned positions was retaken at the point of the bayonet during the night.

myra, north of Yentai, with about a division of infantry and several batteries of artillery. The enemy's attack was checked by the use of our advance guard. They maintained an artillery bombardment until the evening.

"On October 11th the Japanese attacked the Russians on both sides of the railroad and north of the Yentai. A fierce fight raged all day long, and by night the greater portion of the position occupied by the Japanese in Khoma Pass had fallen into the hands of the Russians, who, however, at 5 in the evening, had not succeeded in capturing a wooded hill constituting the key to the position."

"Throughout October 11th the Russians maintained the offensive along the entire front against the Japanese advanced positions, except at some points where they were obliged to retire to their main positions."

JAPS ATTACK FORT.

Bombardment of Port Arthur Becoming More Violent—Recapture Signal Hill.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, October 13.—General Stoessel, commander of the Russian troops of Port Arthur, telegraphs that the Russians recently recaptured Signal Hill. He adds that the Japanese are bombarding the interior of the fortress with new batteries, and that the bombardment is becoming more and more violent.

General Stoessel's report to the Emperor, which is dated October 13th, is as follows:

"The Japanese having increased the number of their guns against the north front, commenced an approach against that section of the fortress the night of October 1st, but were stopped by volleys. The Japanese then directed their attack on the extreme right flank, assailing Signal Hill, which is situated near the sea and commanded an attack from Slaku Hill. Having repulsed our sharpshooters, the Japanese occupied Signal Hill. At daylight Signal Hill was shelled by Russian artillery, after which our companies drove off the Japanese and re-occupied the position."

"The Japanese are using explosives enclosed in boxes provided with black powder, which they throw like hand grenades. Our garrison is successfully employing similar weapons."

"Our indefatigable hero Kondratenko is continually inventing fresh means of striking the enemy. The troops continue to show heroism, the wounded returning to the ranks full of ardor."

Under date of October 7th, General Stoessel reports as follows:

"The Japanese have organized fresh batteries to bombard the inner fortress. One of these batteries is composed of eleven-inch mortars. The bombardment is becoming more violent every day. The enemy has received reinforcements of several battalions. The weather is cold. The spirit of the troops is excellent and all, from the chief to the lowest soldier, is eager to fight the enemy."

DECISIVE VICTORY

RETVIZAN HIT; SHELLING OF PORT IS FURIOUS

(By Associated Press.)

CHE FOO, Oct. 13—7 P. M.—Local Russians confirm the report that the Russian battleship Retvizan was recently hit by a shell from one of the new big Japanese guns, but they claim that the damage done was slight. Two sailors were killed. Another shell burst near the Russian gunboat Giliak, killing her commander and injuring others. The Russians admit that the new Japanese guns seriously threatened the harbor, docks etc. They believe, however, that the squadron at Port Arthur will remain inside the harbor till the arrival of the Baltic fleet.

of the national managers. He remained with each some time and then went to the Seattle, where he had a talk with Judge Parker, whom he had met several times.

"I am impressed with the fact that the Democrats at headquarters appear to be entirely confident of success," said Mr. Ellyson, at the Waldorf, this afternoon. "I could not find doubt anywhere."

"Is Judge Parker confident?" I asked. "He thinks we will win," replied Mr. Ellyson.

Mr. Ellyson arrived early this morning and left for Richmond to-night. He said, by the way, that he had little doubt that the Democrats of the Ninth Virginia District would elect Mr. Wysox to Congress.

Parker Very Confident.

Judge Parker was at the headquarters of the National Committee for some time this morning and visited every department. This was practically the first visit he had paid the quarters where are located the men who are directing his campaign.

"Those nearest to Judge Parker say he grows more confident daily that the Democrats will win this year. He has been doing an immense amount of hard work during the past month endeavoring to unite factions which existed in several States and has succeeded perfectly. This result of his labors causes him to feel greatly encouraged."

Murphy Puts His Foot Down.

Any doubt which may have existed in the minds of some as to the sincerity of Murphy, the Tammany leader, in his support of Judge Parker, was dispelled to-day by his support of a candidate for Congress who is not a Tammany man. Murphy is reported to have received Populist endorsement for that office. The Populists have endorsed Scar, Sulzer and Towne, and intended to put their names on the Watson and Tibbles ticket. But Murphy has blocked their plan. "Democratic candidates must not be Democrats and nothing else," he said to-day. He saw that the effect of this placing of the names of Democratic candidates for Congress on the Populist ticket would be to hurt the Democratic National and State ticket in the city.

Committee, in session in Milwaukee yesterday, to remove its ticket from the field though its irregularity has been declared by the State Supreme Court, which verdict has been recognized by the Republican National Committee. Senator Spooner, who was a leader of the bolters, made an impassioned speech before the committee, beseeching it to withdraw the independent ticket, but to no avail.

of his time in the Third District, where Babcock, the chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, is about to be defeated. He and Congressman Landis, of Indiana, and Beck, of Michigan, have been speaking together, but have failed utterly to excite any enthusiasm on a national issue, or for President Roosevelt, who is regarded as having acted improperly in taking a hand against the Stalwarts in a State fight. At Plattville Tuesday night, there were only twenty-five people at the meeting, and at the end, when Congressman Beck proposed three cheers for Roosevelt and Fairbanks, three men rose and cheered. He thought there might have been a misunderstanding, and again asked for the three cheers, but the same men and no more gave them. As indicated in this correspondence, a day or two ago, the Democrats are extremely hopeful of carrying the State.

The positive refusal of Dr. Chandler, the anti-Addicks candidate for the governorship of Delaware, to withdraw from the race in fulfillment of the agreement of the Democratic Committee of Indiana, is certain that a Democratic Governor will be elected, even if the State should go for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

Bryan Has Coat Off.

The reports which Chairman Taggart is receiving regarding the campaign William J. Bryan is making in Indiana show that the Nebraska is attracting larger crowds than any man on the stump to-day for either party. State Chairman G. W. Marshall, of the Democratic Committee of Indiana, wired Mr. Taggart that the audience which Mr. Bryan addressed yesterday morning at Rockville was by far the largest in that section of Indiana. Fully ten thousand people, who came in large part from the surrounding agricultural country, heard the address.

Mr. O'Brien says he believes the enthusiasm which Mr. Bryan is exciting will make Democratic success in the State assured. The gentleman from Nebraska is said to be on his mettle, and determined to show that he can and will render valuable aid in electing a Democratic President. Mr. Taggart has received information to the effect that Mr. Bryan was misquoted in reports of his speech the other night in a Nebraska town, when he was said to have declared that Roosevelt would carry that State. Mr. Bryan denies that he made the statement.

Mr. Bryan will travel sixteen hundred miles in his tour of Indiana, consuming nine days, and will make at least thirty-three speeches, not including the five he made yesterday, but counting the six he delivered to-day.

Sensation—Almost a Riot.

A sensation has been created by the public announcement of R. E. Carleek, of Brooklyn, one of the best known teachers of the most effective workers in the ranks of that party for the past twenty years, that he would vote for Judge Parker this year. Mr. Carleek had not told anybody of his change of heart. When he was seen at a Republican meeting in the District of Columbia, everybody supposed he was present as a good Republican. When Harold E. Smith had concluded a speech for Roosevelt, in which he had dwelt on the benefits of a protective tariff, Mr. Carleek ascended the platform and asked permission to speak, which was granted. There was intense silence as he began.

"For twenty years I have been a Republican," he said, "and have been an honest believer in a protective tariff. But when protection is given to such 'infant industries' as the Steel Trust, which is capitalized at a billion and a half dollars, and which has made over two hundred multi-millionaires, all at the expense of the people of this land, I am ready to forego protection and join hands with a party which regards American citizens as entitled to as many rights as foreign competitors."

"The protection that makes the American man from 15 to 60 per cent. more for American-made goods than it makes the foreigner may be not the policy that makes for the good of this country."

"I'm for the Democratic policy from this night, and shall work and vote for Parker and Davis."

This announcement, made by such an old wheel-horse, quite naturally threw the meeting into an uproar. There were a thousand or more people present. It looked at one time as if there would be a riot, but the chairman declared the meeting adjourned.

HILL MAKES NEW DEMAND

Condemns Government by Injunction—Bailey Takes the Stump.

(By Associated Press.)

WHEELING, W. VA., October 13.—David B. Hill injected a new argument into the Democratic campaign here to-night—a straightforward condemnation of "government by injunction," and the demand for a law granting a jury trial to persons held in contempt of court for the violation of a restraining order of a Federal judge. The Democratic national platform sustains this position, although in guarded terms.

Mr. Hill recited the history of the use of the injunction in labor disputes and the difficulty in finding an adequate remedy. He told of introducing and securing the passage of a bill through the Senate in 1890 to this end; he then recited the Republican opposition in the House of Representatives since that time which was the ground for making the question a party issue to be called to the front at this time. He declared that a man had the right to quit work when and where he pleased.

"The position of the Democratic party upon this subject is right," he concluded. A Democratic national victory will mean the enactment of the measure mentioned and government by injunction, as he explained, will no longer exist.

Big Reception to Davis.

Wheeling's reception to Mr. Henry G. Davis and his party of campaigners made it necessary to hold two meetings to-night, both of which were addressed by Mr. Davis, Mr. Hill, Senators Bailey and Daniel and Ex-Governor Whyte.

Mr. Davis is sanguine to-night of the West Virginia corporate interests in his crusade against the Republican State tax law. "This law requires from corporations a statement of property made under oath, with a penalty attached for perjury, all of which is declared very distasteful to the corporations."

Mr. Davis was assured to-day by representatives of the coal, oil and certain railroad interests that this was no case, and that he might count on their support.

Bailey Makes Speech.

(By Associated Press.)

LITTLETON, W. VA., October 13.—At Littleton, the center of the West Virginia tax law fight, the citizens assembled en masse to hear the Democratic oratory. Mr. McGraw followed Mr. Davis, both discussing State issues.

Senator Bailey then took up the work and made his first speech in the whirlwind campaign. After discussing the tax law, he turned his attention to President Roosevelt. On the first topic he concluded that the government could do nothing for the people until the people had done something first for the government. In paying high salaries to officials, their money and then having them turn frogs and the first jump they took was one of seven thousand miles.

What Daniel Said.

Senator Daniel had boiled the Imperialistic issue down for a two minute talk. The bill, he declared, had cost the United States $300,000,000, more than fifteen times the combined State debt of Virginia and West Virginia. Look over there at that stagnant pond, he continued, and watch the tadpoles turn into frogs, then gaze up to Washington and watch President Lincoln turn the frogs and the first jump they took was one of seven thousand miles.

At Mannington, Mr. Davis left his car during the speaking and mingled with the crowd, shaking hands and distributing campaign buttons to the children of the school who had gathered to meet him.

Address of Olney.

The address which will be delivered by Hon. Richard Olney in Carnegie Hall in this city on Friday night will be one of the most important of the campaign. A gentleman who has had the privilege of reading Mr. Olney's speech, tells me it covers, comprehensively, all the issues of the campaign, and does so in as able a manner as has yet been done.

It is understood that Mr. Olney will make several more speeches during the campaign, probably all of them in his own State of Massachusetts. He will devote himself almost entirely to discussion of the doctrine of reciprocity when addressing his own people. The question is one of the utmost importance to Massachusetts people and the voters are said to be overwhelmingly in favor of reciprocal trade relations with their Canadian neighbors and with the Newfoundlanders. Because of the opposition of manufacturers of articles protected by tariff laws, the Republican national platform does not declare for reciprocity, and the reciprocity plank of the platform adopted by the Massachusetts Republicans is a complete straddle.
